ABOUT THE

MPAC Convention

Our annual convention brings together hundreds of Americans of all backgrounds to discuss significant issues impacting our country. MPAC's mission is to improve public understanding and policies that impact our African-American, Latino, South Asian, Arab-American and other diverse Muslim communities, and to create the multiethnic, multicultural, truly democratic America we are meant to be.

PAST FEATURES AND SPEAKERS

The MPAC convention has been featured in The New York Times, the AP and the Los Angeles Times. Past speakers include Connie Rice, Dr. Cornel West, Dream Corps President Van Jones, Amy Goodman, host of Democracy Now!, California Attorney General Xavier Becerra, Representatives Judy Chu, Steve Honda and Ted Liu, and Rev. Dr. William J. Barber II, Co-founder of the Poor People's Campaign: A National Call for Moral Revival.
